

CHRISTMAS AT LAST!

Holiday recipes and stories from Italy

Sabine d'Aubergine

19 x 24 cm – hardback

192 pages – color illustrations

€ 25/£ 23/$ 28 – 978 88 6753 245 2

9 788867 532452

Among freshly-baked buttery rolls and magical soufflés, gluttonous gifts that will find themselves under the tree are taking shape: biscuits, syrups, patés, nougat and various crunchy sweets, jars of chutney and jam, pot pourri... the pantry is enriched with preparations that will enliven spur-of-the-moment snacks with friends or enhance the most traditional family dinners. On a wave of frivolity and cheer, finding oneself back in the kitchen becomes an occasion for exchanging memories and recipes, sipping a little drink or diving for delicious brioches. You will find the great Italian classics and an abundance of Nordic-influenced recipes because we all know that Father Christmas lives among reindeer. While garlands of rolls, cream puffs, meringues or orange stars are woven and spices are measured out, the house prepares for the celebration that thrills old and young alike. A book for those who wish to cook without complicating life, because the recipes are suitable for everyone: you risk starting to read a story and then find yourself clinging with pleasure to a butter-scented dough. A book for giving at Christmastime but for reading all year round.-

Guido Tommasi Editore